Futures Explored supports and encourages community integration. Opportunities for community integration at no cost to the consumer are designed and implemented by staff on an ongoing basis. Occasionally, being a participant requires some expenditure of the individual's money. Examples include: admittance to specific relevant exhibits, use of buses and BART, a luncheon or coffee shop outing, ballets, baseball games, and other types of field trips. Consumers, parents, guardians, and/or care providers will be notified in advance as to how much money will be needed at what time.

Please let Futures know how much money the participant may be able to spend monthly. Check one of the following:
